

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

Bridal toilets have been the rule for the last week, and they have been as varied as the weather of the longest spring season. The hours, costumes and ceremonies have all been free from anything suggesting conventionalism. The gamut has been run from early to late hours, from bodies unadorned to bodies surcumbered, and from small gatherings of interested friends to large crowds of curious acquaintances. The wedding of Miss Georgiana Berryman, daughter of Mrs. Charles H. Berryman, to Henry Casimir De Rham was the first one of importance, and the most worthy of note to the members of the fashionable world. The occasion brought together a throng of the shining lights of the social world, and a dazzling display of spring finery in the way of costume and headgear. As tickets of admission to the church were absolutely necessary the immunes of curiosity-seekers to society last winter, Mr. Livingston is a son of Mrs. Eliza E. Livingston, and wife known society.

The marriage of Mr. Gaspar Griswold, a daughter of the late Eliot C. Griswold, to Henry Marquand, son of the Rev. Dr. George Marquand, young men to the parents of the young man who married her friend, was a surprise to their friends. Mr. Griswold is the widow of Dr. Gaspar Griswold, and an enthusiastic player of music. Mr. Marquand, who was graduated from Princeton in 1858, is a member of the prominent coils of this city.

Miss Florence B. Emery, daughter of William Edward Emery, of New Fifth Avenue, and her engagement to Louis J. Livingston, a son of the doors of St. George's Church, and, as a result, there was little lasting inside. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William S. Raiford, the rector. The young couple are fairly matched, both having good birth, substantial possessions, and many charming and attractive qualities. Miss Berryman was a charming bride, as simple and unassuming in her manner as she was in her attire, with no great display of lace, diamonds or bridal gifts, and her wedding was conducted with judgment and good taste. The heavy bracelets in their pretty rows of rose-colored silk, trimmed at the corsage with white chiffon and Valentine lace, and large white hats dressed with pine plumes and ribbons, were a particularly pleasing feature of the picture presented in the chancel.

The guests, encouraged by the bright sunshine and lively skies, appeared in their newest and finest spring costumes. Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, who was one of the first to arrive at the church, wore a costume of black silk and velvet, heavily trimmed with jet, while her tall, handsome daughter, Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt, was in a dress of mauve moire, trimmed with bows of black satin ribbon. Mrs. Thomas Howard wore a gown of glazed moire, short pearl gray and blue, and a large black hat dressed with tall wavy black plumes. Mrs. Alfred Strode wore a gown of black-and-white striped silk, trimmed with black velvet. Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, the sister of the bride, looked handsomer than ever in a costume of striped white satin and silk, with voluminous neck trimmings and a large white hat trimmed with white plumes. Mrs. William Douglas Sloane was in a Napoleon blue figured silk, trimmed with white lace, and a small bonnet of white lace. Miss Anna Sands, Mrs. Curley F. Haymeyer and Mrs. Henry Sloane wore gowns of silver-gray silk, with trimmings of lace and silver passementerie. Mrs. Henry Clews looked very youthful and handsome in a costume of blue gray moire, combined with emerald velvet. Mr. and Mrs. De Rham, who received the congratulations of their friends at the home of the bride's mother, are spending the honeymoon at Tuxedo.

The fashionable wedding of to-morrow will be celebrated at noon in Trinity Chapel, in West Twenty-fifth-st., near Broadway. The bride will be Miss Madeline Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heron Lewis, and the bridegroom Frederick Foster Carey. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, the rector of Trinity Parish, assisted by the Rev. Dr. William H. Vibert, the minister in charge of the chapel. Miss Mabel A. Lewis will be her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Marie Winthrop, Miss Alice Van Reneschaw, Miss Jennie Tiffany, Miss Anzona Dash, of Riverdale; Miss Edna Berger, and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Marion De Peyster Carey, whose marriage to William B. Dinsmore, Jr., is to be celebrated in the same chancel in the first week of June. The best man will be Frederick Prine Deale. The ushers will be Richmond Taylor, Jr., Butler Williamson, Ambrose D. Henry, George Gray, William B. Dinsmore, Jr., and the bride's brother, Walter Heron Lewis, Jr. The reception and wedding breakfast will follow at the home of the bride's parents, No. 11 East Thirty-fifth-st. Mr. Carey and his bride will, after a trip, spend the spring and summer season at Tuxedo.

On Tuesday there will be a number of weddings. Miss Alice Townsend Crawford, daughter of the late David Crawford, will be married to Richard T. Wainwright, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Luther C. Clark, New Gracey Park. The Rev. Dr. John Hall pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church will officiate. There will be no maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be the three sisters of the bride, Miss Besse H. Crawford, Miss Alice T. Crawford, Miss Julia Crawford, and Miss Margaret Strong. Charles Kellar Beckwith will be Mr. Wainwright's best man. The ushers will be Goodhue Livingston, A. Gordon Norrie, Oliver La Farge and Brockholst Cutting, and Duncan Elliot have taken the coach for Saturday, May 10. The bride will make her last trip to the Country Club this season on June 1.

An informal studio reception and exhibition of etchings was given yesterday afternoon at the American Academy of the Arts, 100 Madison Avenue. The Reception Committee comprised Miss Florence Keay, Miss Stella Richardson, Miss Leah Penn, Miss Myrtle Leach, who was the chairman, and Miss Emily C. Hart. The table was set by Miss Eustis and Miss Rosetta Home. The etchings in the exhibition were lent by Mr. Knobell and Mr. Mackellar.

The engagement of Miss Nickerson, daughter of the late W. Nickerson, of Boston, to Van Roschel Cogswell, of this city, is announced. Ms. Cogswell is a member of the Union Club and of the Hospital for the Poor.

Arrangements have been completed for the bicycle tea next Saturday afternoon at Claremont for the benefit of the Burham Industrial Farm.

The bridegroom's parents will be the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Bethuel Dodd, who will be married in Calvary Baptist Church, in West Fifty-seventh-st., to Charles Henry Stanton, of Philadelphia, at noon on the same day. The Rev. Dr. Robert S. MacArthur, the pastor, will perform the ceremony, which will be followed by a large reception, to which several hundred guests have been invited.

Miss May Dodd, the eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bethuel Dodd, will be married in Calvary

Baptist Church, in West Fifty-seventh-st., to Charles Henry Stanton, of Philadelphia, at noon on the same day. The Rev. Dr. Robert S. Mac-

Arthur, the pastor, will perform the ceremony, which will be followed by a large reception, to which several hundred guests have been invited.

The marriage of Miss Alice Grace Burlinson, the eldest daughter of the late John Burlinson, of this city, to John J. Finnell will take place in St. Patrick's Cathedral at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

Many guests have been asked to the ceremony, but only the family and a small number of intimate friends have been bidden to the breakfast which is to follow at the home of the bride, No. 151 East Forty-ninth-st. The Rev. Michael J. Lavelle, the pastor of the Cathedral, assisted by the Rev. Henry T. Newey, will perform the marriage ceremony.

Father Lavelle will afterward celebrate the nuptial mass. Miss Burlinson will be given away by her uncle, Frank J. Coleman. She will wear a reception gown of white satin, trimmed with pearl passementerie and lace, and a large lace hat trimmed with white lace. Miss Lucille Burlinson will be her sister's maid of honor. Her gown will be of white and white satin, and she will wear a small bonnet to correspond. There will be no reception until Mr. and Mrs. Da Costa have established themselves in their new home in Rockville Centre, L. I.

Mrs. Charles Foster Hubbard died at her home, No. 16 East One-hundred-and-fourteenth-st., on Friday morning. Mrs. Hubbard was the wife of Charles Foster, for many years stage manager of the old Bowery Theatre, and author of many plays. For some time past she had been ill, having been playing in a "Silver King" company now in the West. Mrs. Hubbard leaves three daughters.

P. F. Proctor, of Proctor's Theatre, his wife and daughter were passengers on the incoming Canaria yesterday, having been absent since the latter part of October. The trip was primarily for pleasure, but incidentally Mr. Proctor has studied the popular entertainments of Europe, particularly those of the Faustine type. He says he will be back in time for the opening of Proctor's Theatre at 11 P.M. on April 29.

The wedding of Miss Anna Gillig Ruppert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ruppert, to Herman A. Schalk, of Indianapolis, will be celebrated at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon in Pilgrim Congregational Church, Madison-ave., and One-hundred-and-twenty-first-st. The Rev. Dr. Samuel H. Virgin will perform the ceremony. The bride will be the maid of honor, and Robert Manchester, the bride's brother, will be best man.

The wedding of Miss Alice Grace Burlinson, the eldest daughter of the late John Burlinson, of this city, to John J. Finnell will take place in St. Patrick's Cathedral at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

Many guests have been asked to the ceremony, but only the family and a small number of intimate friends have been bidden to the breakfast which is to follow at the home of the bride, No. 151 East

Forty-ninth-st. The Rev. Michael J. Lavelle, the pastor of the Cathedral, assisted by the Rev. Henry T. Newey, will perform the marriage ceremony.

Father Lavelle will afterward celebrate the nuptial mass. Miss Burlinson will be given away by her uncle, Frank J. Coleman. She will wear a reception gown of white satin, trimmed with pearl passementerie and lace, and a large lace hat trimmed with white lace. Miss Lucille Burlinson will be her sister's maid of honor. Her gown will be of white and white satin, and she will wear a small bonnet to correspond. There will be no reception until

Mr. and Mrs. Da Costa have established themselves in their new home in Rockville Centre, L. I.

The wedding of Miss Mary Belle Turrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Algernon K. Turrell, to George Herbert Daley, will take place at the home of the bride's parents, at New-Brighton, S. L. on Tuesday. The number of May weddings will be increased by the celebration of the nuptials of Miss Elizabeth Cynthia Barney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newcomer C. Barney, and Dr. John Laddow Buel, which are announced to take place in the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Fifth-ave., and Forty-fifth-st., at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday, May 28.

The air is full of rumors of engagements, and if half of what one hears is true, the year will be a record one for betrothed couples. As married men are always more useful than single ones for launching the shy young rosebuds, the debutantes will not suffer from the want of suitors. The young men to be seen in the salons of the season are of particular interest to the young. An engagement of particular interest to the young is that of Miss Louisa Hobbs, young daughter of Dr. John Hobbs, of Livingston, which was recently announced. Miss Hobbs, who is a pretty girl, was introduced to society last winter. Mr. Livingston is a son of Mrs. Elizabeth Livingston, and wife known society.

The marriage of Mr. Gaspar Griswold, a daughter of the late Eliot C. Griswold, to Henry Marquand, son of the Rev. Dr. George Marquand, young man to the parents of the young man who married her friend, was a surprise to their friends. Mr. Griswold is the widow of Dr. Gaspar Griswold, and an enthusiastic player of music. Mr. Marquand, who was graduated at Princeton in 1858, is a member of the prominent coils of this city.

The Stars and Stripes draped about a portrait of General Grant, graced the head of the ballroom at the Waldorf Hotel last night. At a dozen tables more than a hundred members of the Grant Banquet Association sat and ate, drank and made speeches in commemoration of the birthday of that wise old general. The soft light of many candles shone through pink shades mounted on silver candlesticks at each table, and the brighter glow of the electric lamp was toned down by filtering through silken envelopes. Roses and lilies were everywhere, and the music of an industrious orchestra mixed and mingled with the hums of conversation.

GRANTS BIRTHDAY HONORED

NORTH AND SOUTH EULOGIZE THE DEAD

HERO AND SOLDIER.

DINNER OF THE GRANT BANQUET ASSOCIATION

AT THE WALDORF—SPEECHES BY ROBERT

G. COUSINS, GENERAL MILES, WILLIAM E. CAMERON AND EX-JUDGE JUDGE HOWLAND.

The Stars and Stripes draped about a portrait of General Grant, graced the head of the ballroom at the Waldorf Hotel last night. At a dozen tables more than a hundred members of the Grant Banquet Association sat and ate, drank and made speeches in commemoration of the birthday of that wise old general. The soft light of many candles shone through pink shades mounted on silver candlesticks at each table, and the brighter glow of the electric lamp was toned down by filtering through silken envelopes. Roses and lilies were everywhere, and the music of an industrious orchestra mixed and mingled with the hums of conversation.

GRANTS BIRTHDAY HONORED

NORTH AND SOUTH EULOGIZE THE DEAD

HERO AND SOLDIER.

DINNER OF THE GRANT BANQUET ASSOCIATION

AT THE WALDORF—SPEECHES BY ROBERT

G. COUSINS, GENERAL MILES, WILLIAM E. CAMERON AND EX-JUDGE JUDGE HOWLAND.

The Stars and Stripes draped about a portrait of General Grant, graced the head of the ballroom at the Waldorf Hotel last night. At a dozen tables more than a hundred members of the Grant Banquet Association sat and ate, drank and made speeches in commemoration of the birthday of that wise old general. The soft light of many candles shone through pink shades mounted on silver candlesticks at each table, and the brighter glow of the electric lamp was toned down by filtering through silken envelopes. Roses and lilies were everywhere, and the music of an industrious orchestra mixed and mingled with the hums of conversation.

GRANTS BIRTHDAY HONORED

NORTH AND SOUTH EULOGIZE THE DEAD

HERO AND SOLDIER.

DINNER OF THE GRANT BANQUET ASSOCIATION

AT THE WALDORF—SPEECHES BY ROBERT

G. COUSINS, GENERAL MILES, WILLIAM E. CAMERON AND EX-JUDGE JUDGE HOWLAND.

The Stars and Stripes draped about a portrait of General Grant, graced the head of the ballroom at the Waldorf Hotel last night. At a dozen tables more than a hundred members of the Grant Banquet Association sat and ate, drank and made speeches in commemoration of the birthday of that wise old general. The soft light of many candles shone through pink shades mounted on silver candlesticks at each table, and the brighter glow of the electric lamp was toned down by filtering through silken envelopes. Roses and lilies were everywhere, and the music of an industrious orchestra mixed and mingled with the hums of conversation.

GRANTS BIRTHDAY HONORED

NORTH AND SOUTH EULOGIZE THE DEAD

HERO AND SOLDIER.

DINNER OF THE GRANT BANQUET ASSOCIATION

AT THE WALDORF—SPEECHES BY ROBERT

G. COUSINS, GENERAL MILES, WILLIAM E. CAMERON AND EX-JUDGE JUDGE HOWLAND.

The Stars and Stripes draped about a portrait of General Grant, graced the head of the ballroom at the Waldorf Hotel last night. At a dozen tables more than a hundred members of the Grant Banquet Association sat and ate, drank and made speeches in commemoration of the birthday of that wise old general. The soft light of many candles shone through pink shades mounted on silver candlesticks at each table, and the brighter glow of the electric lamp was toned down by filtering through silken envelopes. Roses and lilies were everywhere, and the music of an industrious orchestra mixed and mingled with the hums of conversation.

GRANTS BIRTHDAY HONORED

NORTH AND SOUTH EULOGIZE THE DEAD

HERO AND SOLDIER.

DINNER OF THE GRANT BANQUET ASSOCIATION

AT THE WALDORF—SPEECHES BY ROBERT

G. COUSINS, GENERAL MILES, WILLIAM E. CAMERON AND EX-JUDGE JUDGE HOWLAND.

The Stars and Stripes draped about a portrait of General Grant, graced the head of the ballroom at the Waldorf Hotel last night. At a dozen tables more than a hundred members of the Grant Banquet Association sat and ate, drank and made speeches in commemoration of the birthday of that wise old general. The soft light of many candles shone through pink shades mounted on silver candlesticks at each table, and the brighter glow of the electric lamp was toned down by filtering through silken envelopes. Roses and lilies were everywhere, and the music of an industrious orchestra mixed and mingled with the hums of conversation.

GRANTS BIRTHDAY HONORED

NORTH AND SOUTH EULOGIZE THE DEAD

HERO AND SOLDIER.

DINNER OF THE GRANT BANQUET ASSOCIATION

AT THE WALDORF—SPEECHES BY ROBERT

G. COUSINS, GENERAL MILES, WILLIAM E. CAMERON AND EX-JUDGE JUDGE HOWLAND.

The Stars and Stripes draped about a portrait of General Grant, graced the head of the ballroom at the Waldorf Hotel last night. At a dozen tables more than a hundred members of the Grant Banquet Association sat and ate, drank and made speeches in commemoration of the birthday of that wise old general. The soft light of many candles shone through pink shades mounted on silver candlesticks at each table, and the brighter glow of the electric lamp was toned down by filtering through silken envelopes. Roses and lilies were everywhere, and the music of an industrious orchestra mixed and mingled with the hums of conversation.

GRANTS BIRTHDAY HONORED

NORTH AND SOUTH EULOGIZE THE DEAD

HERO AND SOLDIER.

DINNER OF THE GRANT BANQUET ASSOCIATION

AT THE WALDORF—SPEECHES BY ROBERT

G. COUSINS, GENERAL MILES, WILLIAM E. CAMERON AND EX-JUDGE JUDGE HOWLAND.

The Stars and Stripes draped about a portrait of General Grant, graced the head of the ballroom at the Waldorf Hotel last night. At a dozen tables more than a hundred members of the Grant Banquet Association sat and ate, drank and made speeches in commemoration of the birthday of that wise old general. The soft light of many candles shone through pink shades mounted on silver candlesticks at each table, and the brighter glow of the electric lamp was toned down by filtering through silken envelopes. Roses and lilies were everywhere, and the music of an industrious orchestra mixed and mingled with the hums of conversation.

GRANTS BIRTHDAY HONORED

NORTH AND SOUTH EULOGIZE THE DEAD

HERO AND SOLDIER.

DINNER OF THE GRANT BANQUET ASSOCIATION

AT THE WALDORF—SPEECHES BY ROBERT